Profile

Graham called to the bar in 2014 after having practised for six years as a commercial litigator with Dundas & Wilson CS LLP. Since calling, Graham has developed a wide ranging practice covering commercial, property and public law disputes. He is regularly instructed to appear in the Court of Session (both Inner and Outer Houses) and has also appeared often in the sheriff court and various tribunals, including the Lands Tribunal for Scotland, the Employment Tribunal and the Immigration Tribunal. Particular areas on which he has been instructed to advise recently include land disputes, corporate and insolvency petitions, data protection issues as well as construction and planning matters.

Graham has been a standing junior to the Advocate General for Scotland since August 2019. Prior to qualifying as a solicitor, Graham qualified and practised as a Chartered Surveyor for five years.
